1. Purpose of the Reserve Management Plan

The purpose of the Reserve Management Plan is to provide direction for the management and development of the Kerikeri Domain. (Domain)

The Reserve Management Plan provides the community with certainty about the function and management of the reserve. It helps to make sure management decisions are consistent with the Reserves Act 1977.

2. Statutory context for reserve management

The Reserves Act 1977 (the Act) governs the management and control of reserves in New Zealand. The Act requires the administering body (the Council) to prepare Reserve Management Plans (section 41). The Council has resolved to prepare a Reserve Management Plan which outlines the general intentions for the balanced use, development and protection of the Domain for the next 10 years.

Other bylaws and policies

- Council Bylaws e.g. public places, dog control etc.

3. Reserve classification

The Domain is classified as a Recreation Reserve under section 17 of the Reserves Act 1977. Section 17 (1) states the purpose of recreation reserves is for:

'Providing areas for the recreation and sporting activities and the physical welfare and enjoyment of the public, and for the protection of the natural environment and beauty of the countryside, with emphasis on the retention of open spaces and on outdoor recreational activities, including recreational tracks in the countryside.'

What this means is that the purpose of the Domain as a recreation reserve is primarily for providing areas for events and recreational opportunities for the well-being and enjoyment of the wider community, and to protect the natural environment.

4. Domain ownership and management

The key responsibilities of the Council under the Act are to:

- Classify and manage its reserve land according to its primary purpose.
- Prepare a Reserve Management Plan, open to continuous review.

A Reserve Management Plan shall provide for and ensure the use, access, enjoyment, maintenance, protection, preservation and development (as appropriate) of the reserve for the purpose for which is classified under the Reserves Act 1977.

To inform the development of the Reserve Management Plan for the Domain, the Council was required to consult with iwi and the community in order to identify their wishes and aspirations for the Domain. This consultation was undertaken through a survey in June-July 2017 and workshops during August and September 2018.

There are the following leases on the Domain:

5. Site context

Under the District Plan, the Domain is zoned for recreational use and is an open space for the use of the general public. The Domain is bordered by a commercial zone on the south, north and west boundaries and residential to the east. It is known informally as the 'heart' of Kerikeri.

The main entrance to the Domain is located on Cobham Road. This is the entrance for the park's facilities including the squash clubrooms and pavilion (currently damaged from fire), public toilets, basketball court and skate park. The Procter Library is located adjacent on the south-western corner and has a large carpark adjacent that borders the west side of the Domain. In front of this carpark are retail shops and eateries which line Kerikeri's main street.

Pedestrian access from Kerikeri Road through to the Domain is limited and unclear, although it is evident people in particular students accessing the high school access the Domain through the carpark in between the main street shops. The Domain has a perimeter loop path that provides access to the surrounding facilities such as the New World supermarket, Procter Library and Kerikeri High School on the east boundary of the site. The reserve is well utilised by young children on bikes, dog walkers, visitors tourists and families as well as a perimeter walk by the residents in the nearby retirement villages.

It is a significant district wide asset and is used by groups/ individuals outside of Kerikeri.

History of Kerikeri Domain

In July 1819, Samuel Marsden came to the Bay of Islands with the intention of forming a new settlement at Kerikeri. Hongi Hika told Samuel Marsden that he was free to choose a site on either side of the Kerikeri River. Samuel Marsden was satisfied with the safety of the anchorage, the richness of the soil, and availability of fresh water on the north side of the river, and so he accepted the offer.

The land that was purchased on behalf of the Church Missionary Society at Kerikeri amounted to 13,000 acres for which Hongi Hika was paid 48 axes. The Deed was signed on 4 November 1819 and stated that this area was bounded on the South East by the district of the Chiefs Te Morenga and Waitara.

The deed also included an area known as the 'Peoples Reserve/ Childrens land' which was intended to benefit the people of the land. It stretched between the Kerikeri River and what is now the town centre. This was taken as part of the Bay of Islands Settlement Act 1858 and is now a subject of a Treaty of Waitangi Claim.

Overtime much of this land has been developed and the Domain is all that remains of this reserve space within the town centre. The area of land which now comprises the the Domain was first used for the purpose of sport and recreation in 1928 by the settlers of Kerikeri. The Riddell family of Kerikeri, being third generation Kerikeri citizens, offered use of their land, which forms part of the Domain today, for the laying out of a nine-hole golf course which was utilised until 1941. The Kerikeri Recreation Reserve (inc.) Society was formed in 1934 by the Kerikeri Settlers Association for the purpose of purchasing land and administering and 'preserving for all time the land as a Community Recreation Ground'.

Settlers contributed a fund from as early as 1933 which shows the level of commitment of these early community members particularly as this was during the 'Depression era.' In 1953 the Domain block was transferred to the Crown creating a 'Recreation Reserve' under the Public Reserves, Domains and National Parks Act of 1928. The Kerikeri Domain Board was set up to administer the Domain at this time.

In 1954 and 1992 two additional parcels of land (2.5 acres and 215sq. metres) were added to the Domain. The Kerikeri Domain Board was appointed to control and manage the reserve in 1953. How and when the Domain Board came to demise is unknown.

The current land area of the Domain is now just over three hectares and is still Crown owned but is managed by the Council.

Cultural heritage

Kerikeri is a place immersed in the cultural narrative of Māori settlement. It is a historic place of national importance. Several different hapū settled in Kerikeri hundreds of years ago due to the good quality soil conditions being ideal for growing produce such as kumara and taro. Tangata whenua's main area of occupation was at Te Waimate which is on the perimeter of their tribal land. They used it as a seaport, a place to gather food and keep their canoes. Kororipo Pā, now a historic reserve managed by the Department of Conservation, is a terraced site located above the Kerikeri Basin and provides shelter to the town.

The location overlooks surrounding bush of Rewa's Village and has views to the Kerikeri River. The Pā site was once the meeting place where Māori and European's came to trade and converse. In 1835, Ngāti Rehia hosted the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Kerikeri has a cultural environment that encompasses many memories and values of Māori. It is important that any new developments within the Domain respect these values.

New developments within the Domain should include collaboration with the local tangata whenua, to discuss the development and management of what is proposed. This will ensure what is proposed aligns with the principles outlined in any iwi / hapū management plan or other documents.

Landscape

The Domain is a key meeting/ recreational space for the people of Kerikeri. A focal point within the Domain is the sculpture 'Te Whiringa o Manoko' by local artist Chris Booth and installed in 2009. It's translation is 'the interweaving of the cultures of Kerikeri'. It comprises of stacked stone boulders and bronze elements. As outlined by the Artist, the sculpture has a direct correlation with the surrounding landscape of Kerikeri. It is a reflection of the tall Kauri forests, volcanic boulders from the soils of the area and shell elements derived from the forest Kauri snails.

Around the perimeter of the site is a path that provides a connection to each of the amenities on site and weaves over mounded land, providing a border to the open green space of the Domain.

Reserve use

The Domain is used by the public for informal active recreation including basketball, skating and a children's playground as well as organised sports including squash, rugby league and cricket. The Pavilion that the squash club previously used as their clubrooms is currently out of use due to fire damage.

The library is situated on the Cobham Road corner and is well-utilised.

Bordering the east of the Domain is the Kerikeri Bowling Club. The activities adjacent to the site such as the Kerikeri High School make use of the park for access through the main retail and commercial centre on Kerikeri Road.
